

Power boats, sailboats, canoes and kayaks are available as rentals, along with boat slips. Wallowa Lake holds eight state records for kokanee, as well as the world record for the largest kokanee ever caught on-record, in 2010. The Wallowa River, spawning ground for kokanee, has its headwaters within the Eagle Cap Wilderness, and runs along the western boundary of the property. Wallowa Lake Lodge is the only lodging option that has a lake front setting, and is walking distance to the Wallowa Lake Tram, which carries riders to the summit of Mt. Howard and is used for hiking and parasailing. One of the most popular trailheads into the Eagle Cap Wilderness is one-half mile from the lodge, and is used for hiking, horseback riding, and access to high elevation lakes for both fishing and hunting. Additionally, there are snowmobile,
